

Appendix F – Analysis of Sports Hall provision

William Penn Leisure Centre has always had a four court hall since it was built in 1996. In recent years Rickmansworth School has undergone a significant refurbishment and opened a new four-court hall in 2013. St Michaels Catholic High School in Abbots Langley has also completed a refurbishment of a sports hall in 2010.

The Reach Free School which due to be built in Mill End has included within its planning designs a new four-court sports hall that could be available for community use.

There are some restrictions on sports hall availability at various sites across the district. For example York House/Merchant Taylors are both private school sites with very limited community use and St Michaels School is limited to 4 hours per week. The majority of sports hall space within the district is located on school sites and this limits accessible hours to evenings and weekends.

Hertsmere Leisure has confirmed that there 'would be limited impact' if the present four court hall was reduced by half 'as many of the bookings can be relocated or accommodated within 2 courts'. They have also confirmed that the present bookings with more than two courts, namely; both Active Life and Trampolining sessions can fit into 2 courts; Mill End Youth can be accommodated within 2 courts and squash courts; and the 3 football bookings of 1 hour each could be transferred to the upgraded Multi Use Games Area.

Appendix 1 provides a list of sports halls in Three Rivers, their location, facility markings, access arrangements, ownership, opening hours and prices (where available). Appendix 2 provides a list of sports halls outside of Three Rivers with distances to William Penn Leisure Centre.
